TERMS OF SALE

This is a public and mail bid auction sale. Lots will be sold on the dates indicated. Bidders unknown to us must supply acceptable credit references or a 25% deposit to assure entry of their bids.

All floor sales are final. No lots may be returned for any reason by floor buyers. Any claims for adjustment by mail bidders must be made within three days after receipt of books. No lots may be returned without our written permission.

Terms of this sale are strictly cash in United States funds only. Payments from foreign accounts must be made in U.S. Dollars by International Check to the account of George Frederick Kolbe through any New York Correspondent bank. Bids from minors cannot be accepted without written and signed parental permission.

Unless exempt by law, the buyer will be required to pay, on the total purchase price, the combined New York State and local sales tax or any applicable compensating use tax of any other state.

All books are as described. We acknowledge the possibility of errors or typographical mistakes, and any errors on our part will be cheerfully corrected. We cannot be responsible for your errors; please check your bid sheet carefully.

Title remains with the owner until lots are paid for in full. We reserve the discretionary right to withhold delivery of lots until full payment has been received.

The prices indicated after each lot are estimates of value only and are intended solely as a guide. The prices realized may be higher or lower than these valuations.

By submitting your bids you agree to the Terms of Sale herewith set forth. Payment in full must be made immediately upon notification or upon receipt of books.

Lots to be mailed to addresses not in the United States or its Territories will be sent only at the risk of the purchaser. When possible, insurance will be obtained. It must be noted, however, that adequate insurance is often not available via surface mail.

All lots will be sold to the highest bidder. Mail bids will be treated as limits and lots will be purchased below the maximums where competition permits. There is no charge or commission for executing bids. All postage, insurance and shipping charges, however, will be added to invoices. There will be a $1.00 charge per lot for packing and processing.

- 407 [ROYAL MINT]. Memorandum Coinage & Mint. (Spine title). n.p., n.d. Manuscript. 348 pages. Contents are as follows:
Proceedings and Alterations Proposed on the Establishment of the New Mint 1815 (pages 1-64).
Moneys Agreement of 1816 (pages 65-72).
Melters Agreement of 1828 (pages 73-80).
Digest of Mint Indenture of 1817 (pages 81-204).
Mint Related Extracts from Snelling (pages 205-220).
Mint Related Extracts from Ruding (pages 221-328).
Index to the Snelling and Ruding Extracts.
Brief Index to the Other Portions of the ms.
Additionally, there are two loose notes, one on Royal Mint embossed paper showing Commonwealth plate marks, and one written in 1847, in the same hand as the ms, relating to a mint master in the reign of Edward II. Several sketches in the Snelling portion, 23 x 19 cm. Contemporary half calf, binding worn and scuffed, contents fine. Marbled boards, endpapers and edges. (450.00)
An extensive handwritten manuscript, probably written by a mint official circa 1830. This is apparently an unpublished work, perhaps intended as a history of the Royal Mint and its modern organization. Much of the material directly relates to the great reorganization of the Mint under William Wellesley Pole (Master 1812-1823) and Sir James William Morrison (Deputy Master 1801-1850). It may be possible to determine the author by comparing the handwriting with Mint files of the period.

412 Sado Kinzan / Sado Island Mining and Coinage. n.p., n.d. Handcolored manuscript. 59 sheets depicting the entire process, from underground mining to the completion of coins. Lacking is the title sheet and last few leaves. 26½ x 19 cm. Unbound, tied at the spine, housed in a blue cloth slipcase. (2500.00)

Sado, an island off the coast of Japan, has long been famous for its gold and silver mines which have been worked from very early times. This manuscript covers in full detail the processes of gold, silver and copper ore refining, washing, smelting, melting into bricks, or bullion, then the refining and resmelting into coins including the striking, polishing, weighing and counting. These manuscripts are quite rare. This one, done in a book form, may have been a prototype for an illustrated woodblock book, in color. The border lines (key block) are present, and full descriptive text of each process, chapter headings, and the table of contents are present. Full process of gold, silver, and nearly all of the copper processes are present. The art work reflects the fine lines of the 17th century, as does the clothing worn by the officials of the Shogun, who are shown supervising all operations. This manuscript may be a copy of a 17th century book, or manuscript long lost. The British Museum has a somewhat similar manuscript, dated circa 1820. The paper, color and style of this example, however, are all of the mid-17th century.

499 [TINDAL, NICHOLAS]. The Metallic History of King William and Queen Mary, Queen Ann and King George I or a series of medals, representing all the remarkable events from the Revolution, to the death of King George Ist. n.p., n.d., ca. 174-. Two volumes. 6 leaves, pages 7-342, 1 leaf, 215 pages. Original manuscript, written in ink and ruled throughout in red. 20½ x 17½ cm. Contemporary vellum. (250.00)

A well executed manuscript comprising the entire text of the numismatic portions of Tindal's "Continuation of the History of England", first published 1744-1745, by Rapin de Thoyras. Likely a fair copy, possibly in Tindal's own autograph, and almost certainly predating the published work. There are many minor differences between the manuscript and the printed text and the spelling in the printed text has been modernized. A most attractive work.

Large quarto. Twelve volumes are bound in the special full leather gilt, four are bound in blue cloth gilt, the remaining four volumes are bound in different leather which is badly worn. Apart from one volume in which the contents are loose, the four defective leather volumes already noted, and trivial dampstaining in the inner margins of two volumes, a very fine set. (5000.00)

Clarke Stetanielli 2902* Critson page 160 King Victor Emmanuel began collecting coins at eight years of age and first conceived the idea for a corpus of Italian coins in 1897 when he proposed it to the Italian Numismatic Society. Six hundred copies of the first volume were printed: 150 copies in full leather were given to collectors, 150 to public libraries, 300 to be sold. When the author died only two volumes remained unpublished and Volume 19 appeared in due course. Volume 20, however, never progressed beyond the proof stage and only a half dozen or so copies sent to major collectors for corrections are extant today. Perhaps the most extensive numismatic work ever written on the coinage of a single country and perhaps the rarest major numismatic reference as well. To our knowledge, this is the first set ever to be sold at auction.
